

Expert Assistance to Help You Get Back to Work

Guidance for Operating Safely and Efficiently

Fusion Cell's risk mitigation planning services will help you assess and manage the risks that COVID-19 presents to get your employees and customers back to your business at the highest safety and efficiency levels. Our team of board-certified public health epidemiologists and logistics experts partner with your existing COVID-19 response team. You will receive guidance on the strategic and tactical decisions enabling you to quickly and safely adapt to changing regulations and conditions.

Military-Trained Experts in Infection Control

Fusion Cell is staffed by former military specialists who have decades of training and experience at maximizing business output in the face of pandemics and disasters.

Our team includes:

- Experts in hospital infection control, experienced with COVID-19, Ebola, H1N1, SARS
- Epidemiologists with Certified in Public Health credentials
- FEMA-trained public health emergency planners
- Leaders from the Department of Defense that assist FEMA
- Experts in designing and exercising annual disease containment plans for military bases
- Experience in OSHA, FEMA, FDA, and human resource procedures

Schedule a Discovery Session

To learn how we can help you, schedule a discovery session with our military experts.

Contact us at:

contact@fusioncell.com

603.912.0712

www.fusioncell.com

A Science-based Approach to Reduce Transmission Risk

We take a science-backed and layered approach to risk mitigation that will make your business as safe as possible.

Our risk mitigation planning service will help you:

- Provide a safe working environment for your employees
- Arm members of your COVID-19 response team with the expertise to develop military-grade plans while freeing up their time to focus on their core responsibilities
- Give customers confidence that they can safely transact with your business
- Limit the risks posed by interacting with business partners

Advantages of Our Risk Mitigation Planning Service

Our risk mitigation planning service will help you design and execute a safe and effective action plan for your business. We start by assessing your specific situation and needs. We'll evaluate your business operations/functions, culture, current threats present in your community, and current risk management plans. We'll use that to create a tailored risk mitigation planning tool that will help you develop:

- A plan to navigate the flood of local, state, and federal guidance
- An immediate action plan that will get your business running safely and efficiently
- Administrative controls to minimize the risks to employees, partners, and customers
- A response plan that will help you mitigate the impact of future outbreaks if and when they occur in your community
- An on-going process that gives you time back to focus on your core business functions

